Superman On Film

Superman has been the subject of several major motion pictures, beginning with the 1948 serial Superman. The first feature-length Superman film was Superman: The Movie, released in 1978. The film was a critical and commercial success, and helped to launch the modern superhero film genre. Christopher Reeve starred as Superman in the film, and his iconic performance is still considered one of the best portrayals of the character.

Superman has also appeared in several other feature films, including Superman II (1980), Superman III (1983), Superman IV: The Quest for Peace (1987), Superman Returns (2006), and Man of Steel (2013). The most recent Superman film, Justice League, was released in 2017.

Superman On Television

Superman has also been the subject of several television series. The first Superman television series was Adventures of Superman, which aired from 1952 to 1958. George Reeves starred as Superman in the series, and his portrayal of the character is still considered one of the most definitive.

Other Superman television series include Superboy (1988-1992), Lois & Clark: The New Adventures of Superman (1993-1997), Smallville (2001-2011), and Krypton (2018-2019). The most recent Superman television series, Superman & Lois, premiered in 2021.

Superman On Radio

Superman has also been the subject of several radio programs. The first Superman radio program was The Adventures of Superman, which aired from 1940 to 1951. Bud Collyer voiced Superman in the program, and his portrayal of the character is still considered one of the most iconic.

Other Superman radio programs include Superman: The Serial (1949-1950), The New Adventures of Superman (1966-1971), and Superman: The Radio Serial (1993-2000). The most recent Superman radio program, Superman: The Audible Adventures, premiered in 2018.

Superman On Broadway

Superman has also been the subject of several Broadway productions. The first Superman Broadway musical was It's a Bird... It's a Plane... It's Superman!, which opened in 1966. The musical was a critical and commercial failure, and closed after only 12 performances.

In 2018, a new Superman musical, titled Superman & Lois, premiered on Broadway. The musical was a critical and commercial success, and ran for over 600 performances.
